

New Hotels For Luxury Travellers In 2017

At the end of the year, my thoughts always turn to my travel plans for the year ahead. My wishlist for the first part of this year includes Mauritius, South Africa Santorini and St Bart's, with many more destinations for later in the year hopefully.

To give you some inspiration for next year's travel plans, here are some key new hotel openings to keep on your radar.

Almanac Barcelona

Almanac Hotels is a new hotel group where the first luxury hotel to launch in the summer of 2017 will be Almanac Barcelona (92 rooms and suites), located on Gran Via de les Corts Catalanes.

Expect a stylish and contemporary décor using a wealth of textures, different materials and a palate of grey, beige and gold tones throughout with accents of oak and walnut.
